

Farm output per worker can rise while total farm output falls.